Winchester Savings Bank Announces the Renovation and Reopening of its Horn Pond Plaza Branch in Woburn

Woburn, MA – After more than forty years in the Horn Pond Plaza in Woburn, Winchester Savings Bank recently completed a full renovation and redesign of its branch at 344 Cambridge Road, which is now open for business.

“Banking has changed since we opened this branch in 1980,” said Peter Segerstrom, President & CEO of Winchester Savings Bank. “So much is done online now, and we are happy to provide those services. But many people still want a place to go, whether it's for something quick and convenient like our coin machine, or it's something that needs a conversation and some expertise. Advancements in technology have made it possible for us to create a space where a customer feels welcome and connected, while enhancing the safety and security that will always be necessary.”

The project began in June, and the site was completely rebuilt on the inside. In addition, the outside was updated with brand new windows, paint and signage. Renovations were finished mid-August, and the branch opened for normal business hours soon thereafter.
